

Educating your MDW is a continuous process

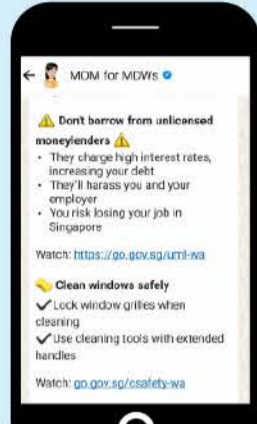

Dear Employers,

Did you know that other than the Settling-in Programme for first-time migrant domestic workers (MDWs), MOM also offers free tools and resources to help your MDW stay informed on employment regulations throughout her employment journey?

Through these channels, your helper will also be updated on courses conducted by Non-Governmental Organisations to help her upskill, benefitting her and your household. Do your part by sharing these tools and resources with your helper.

Warn your MDW about the dangers of Unlicensed Moneylenders

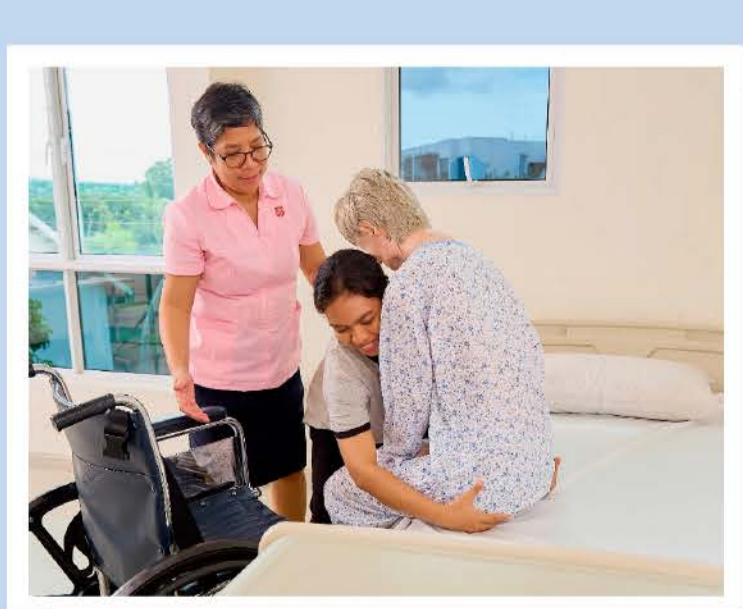

Tell your MDW to stay away from unlicensed moneylenders (UMLs) and not to assist them in any way. Otherwise, her work pass will be revoked, and she will be barred from working in Singapore.

If you or your MDW receive threats or harassment, report to the Police immediately. Call 999 for emergencies or 1800-255-0000 for assistance.

Do not accede to the demands of the unlicensed moneylender in any way.
